The Spoken Word: A Symphony for the Senses

In the realm of poetry, the spoken word holds a special place. There's something utterly captivating about hearing a poet's voice giving life to their words, as if each syllable is a delicate brushstroke painting a vivid tapestry of emotions and ideas.

At our poetry party, you'll have the privilege of witnessing this auditory artistry firsthand. Our poets will take to the stage, their voices weaving a tapestry of sound that will linger in your memory long after the final word has been uttered.

Performing Poems

At Randall School, Lola and her classmates enjoyed watching some actors performing poems. The actors moved around and made the poems come alive. All of the students wanted the show to go on and on. They had no idea that poetry could be so much fun!

Students Onstage

Lola and some of her classmates wondered about performing poems themselves. They knew many poems and had written some of their own. (And they felt like sharing their poems with their classmates!) In this chapter, you can learn how to perform your own poems.
